CONVENTION AT SARATOGA

Tammany Making Elaborate Preparations for Fourth of July Celebration, When De Armond, Cockran and Bailey Speak.

New York, June 21 .- "Let the past take care of itself. We must have harmony in the party if we care to win, and, if we have it, I think we have an excellent chance of victory in the State this fall. This is a time when all Democrats should forget the differences that have divided them and work together for the success of the party." David B. Hill spent the day yesterday repeating these words, or the sentiment that they convey, to the Democratic leaders all over the State who remain in this city all over the State who remain in this city after the harmony meeting at the Thiden Club Thursday night. Club Thursday night.

The Tammany men made no concealment of their wish that the organization could have brought about the meeting, and they will endeavor to make their first Fourth of July celebration an occasion of similar importance. The plans for the Tammany celebration have all been arranged, but they will not be announced for several days. W. Bourks Cockran, Senator Balley of Texas and David A. De Armond of Missouri will make the principal addresses.

There was much talk of gubernatorial candidates among the Democrats who gathered at the Hoffman House yesterday. The name that was most in favor was that of Judge Parker of the Court of Appeals. Many Democrats did not besitate to say that Judge Parker should be made to walve his personal inclination to remain on the bench and take the leadership in the coming campaign.

The chief aim of his talks with his visitors was the absolute necessity for harmony this fall. He assured all who saw him that he was in constant commincation with all parts of the State, and that the prospects for victory, were never better if party quarrels can be avoided.

He had nothing to say in regard to candidates, beyond repeating the declaration for make at the Tilden Chub—that he would use his best efforts to see that all factions had representation on the State ticket.
